History of A.D.A.M.

Founded in 1990 and headquartered in Johns Creek, Georgia, A.D.A.M., Animated Dissection of Anatomy for Medicine, has been a worldwide leading provider of consumer health information and benefits technology solutions to health care organizations, hospitals, benefits brokers, employers, consumers, and educational institutions. A.D.A.M. solutions engage consumers to better understand their health, wellness and benefits choices, and provide the tools to assist them in making personalized health and benefits decisions, while helping health care organizations and employers reduce the costs of health care and benefits administration.

In 2011, Ebix, Inc. acquired A.D.A.M. to further strengthen its Exchange channel in the health information and services areas for employers, benefit brokers, hospitals, search engines, media, health care organizations, brokers and insurance carriers.

In 2012, Montreal-based Taimma Communications Inc., a leading provider of innovative eLearning medical education solutions to the pharmaceutical, biotechnology and health care industries, was purchased by Ebix, Inc. and merged into its A.D.A.M. division.

In 2014, Ebix, Inc. acquired www.HealthcareMagic.com (<http://www.HealthcareMagic.com/>) (also known as Ask A Doctor) - a medical advisory service with an online network of approximately 15,000 general physicians and surgeons spread across 50 specialties, including alternative medicine

In 2014, Birmingham-based Oakstone Publishing (<http://www.oakstone.com/>), a leading provider of continuing education, certification materials for physicians, dentists and allied healthcare professionals, as well as wellness resources for organizations, was purchased and integrated into its A.D.A.M. division.

In 2015, Via Media Health (<http://www.adam.com/adamindia>), a provider of medical content and communication services to the health sector in India, was acquired and integrated into its A.D.A.M. division.

A.D.A.M. is a business unit of Ebix, Inc. and is a NASDAQ-traded public company based in Atlanta, Georgia.
