Support in Your Area

Get ready to connect! NCA offers an extensive nationwide network of incredible people who are enthusiastic about helping you navigate day-to-day life with your diagnosis.

Also, once a month, a national virtual support group meeting is hosted by an NCA staff member. These meetings, open to all, are held from 7 to 8 pm Eastern Time on the second Tuesday of each month. Join for open conversation about gluten-free living.

Find Support Near You

Chapters

Chapters are exciting and vibrant support groups that have followed state and federal requirements to become a legitimate part of National Celiac Association. They provide education and support, frequently having conferences or smaller meetings, collecting dues and providing publications. They are independently organized with a legal obligation to the National Celiac Association.

Local Partners

Local Partners serve as a much-needed contact for information, member recruitment, advocacy, and support in their area. Local Partners tend to be smaller than chapters, but no less dynamic. They offer a broad range of support such as drop-in meetings, other social events, and one-on-one communication. Headed by one or two people, they are directly responsible to the National Celiac Association.

Resource People

A Resource Person is a volunteer who serves as a local contact for support, advocacy, information and member recruitment. They work independently, providing both email and phone support for individuals. They enlighten and nurture people in need in their area. They are directly responsible to the National Celiac Association.

Contact Us

Please do not directly email NCA's support network if you represent a company soliciting for commercial, pharmaceutical or academic interest. Instead, please contact NCA home office.
