AUGUST IS GASTROPARESIS AWARENESS MONTH

GASTROPARESIS AWARENESS MONTH

GASTROPARESIS RESEARCH

Increased awareness through advocacy efforts has led to greater recognition of gastroparesis by healthcare providers and policymakers. Advancements in diagnostic technologies are helping improve accuracy and early detection. Ongoing clinical trials for new therapies and medications offer hope for more effective treatment options. Continued investment in research is essential to drive meaningful progress and improve outcomes for those living with gastroparesis.

August is Gastroparesis Awareness Month – Join the Campaign!

The International Foundation for Gastrointestinal Disorders (IFFGD) successfully led efforts to make August a nationally recognized Gastroparesis Awareness Month (<https://aboutgastroparesis.org/living-with-gastroparesis/gastroparesis-awareness-month/>).—and we're proud to continue leading the charge for change.

This August, we're launching a special awareness campaign focused on increasing public understanding of gastroparesis, empowering patient advocates, and driving policy change. Throughout the month, we'll be sharing educational resources, spotlighting personal stories, and highlighting the urgent need for research and better treatments.

We invite you to join our efforts by sharing our content, spreading the word on social media, and using our free media toolkit

Whether you post your own story or a fact about gastroparesis, don't forget to use the hashtags #GPAAdvocacy and #GastroparesisAwarenessMonth  help amplify our message and show your support for the community.

Together, we can raise awareness and advocate for meaningful change.
