

Support and Online Communities

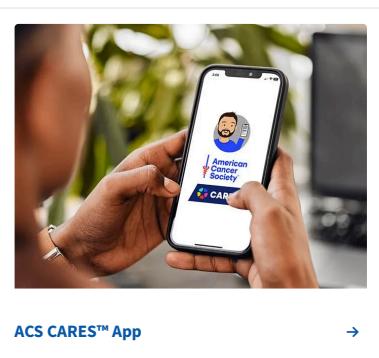

If you have been touched by cancer, your American Cancer Society is here to help. We want to make sure you know about the rich resources provided by your American Cancer Society and our partners.

National Cancer Information Center (NCIC)

The National Cancer Information Center provides information and support to those facing cancer 24 hours a day, 365 days a year. Trained cancer information specialists are available via phone, live chat, and now video chat, providing accurate, up-to-date cancer information to patients, family members, and caregivers and connecting them with valuable services and resources in their communities.

Learn more or contact the NCIC

ACS CARES™ App →

If you or someone you love has been diagnosed with cancer, deciding what's next can be overwhelming. ACS CARES™ (Community Access to Resources, Education, and Support) is a new patient and caregiver support program that connects people with quality curated information and one-on-one support.

Get help navigating life with cancer

Data Sharing Settings

Your Consent Matters to Us

ACS uses cookies and similar technologies to improve your experience and understand site traffic.

Reject All Cookies

Accept All Cookies

Cancer Survivors Network (CSN)

Join our online community where cancer patients, survivors, and caregivers can connect with others impacted by cancer and share information and support through our discussion boards, chat room, and private messages. CSN is available 24/7 for members who support and inspire one another, share personal experiences, and offer practical tips for dealing with the side effects of cancer and its treatment.

Join the Cancer Survivors Network.

Make Your Health Journey Easier

Anyone with cancer, their caregivers, families, and friends can benefit from help and support. The American Cancer Society partners with CaringBridge, a free online tool that allows people dealing with illnesses like cancer to stay in touch with their friends, family members, and support network by creating their own personal page where they share their journey and health updates.

Your Consent Matters to Us

ACS uses cookies and similar technologies to improve your experience and understand site traffic.